Mrs. Truman Rallies Again During Day

President's Mother Keeps Up Battle For Life
With Unflinching Determination

PRESIDENT BACK AT MOTHER'S SIDE
By ROBT. G. NIXON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

GRANDVIEW, Mo., May 20.—President Truman's mother kept up her battle for life today with unflinching determination.

The brave little lady rallied again early this morning after a difficult night.

The president took about a twenty minute walk. Then he returned to the hotel for breakfast, before motoring to Grandview an hour later.

The president then motored from his hotel to his mother's cottage in Grandview. The trip was made without incident through a light rain.

The Truman party arrived at the cottage at 7:30 a. m.

The iron will of the gallant little old lady brought her back after a day of lost ground, Monday.

Granddaughter Inspires

The inspiration was her granddaughter, Margaret, for whom she has aspirations to be a great singer.

Margaret dropped a concert tour which was to launch her on her career to fly to the bedside of her ailing "granma".

Mother Truman saw her, recognized her, and was comforted.

Pa New Observes

Continuous rainy weather is hampering farmers in their oats planting on some farms, Pa New is informed.

Today marks the twentieth anniversary of Charles A. Lindbergh's pioneer flight non-stop from New York to Paris. He made the flight unaccompanied in 33½ hours.

A Ford truck of approximately 1914 vintage, was attracting quite a bit of attention in the vicinity of Adams street and Butler avenue on Monday afternoon. The ancient vehicle displayed a shiny brass radiator and had to be driven in order to make it run.

Residents of Mulberry street were getting a smooth street once more on Monday. The city street scraper was engaged in making the street more passable.

Utility companies have numerous street openings about the city. In most instances quite a long time elapses before the excavations are properly filled making earthways as smooth as they were before the excavations.

In the midst of a beauty spot at the southwest corner of Highland and Summer avenues is a large bed of vari-colored tulips. Lilacs are also blooming on the same grounds.

Various redbud or Judas trees in the city are blooming in all their glory now. Rose-colored blossoms come before the shiny heart-shaped leaves on this tree which some people think excels all others in attractiveness.

Dear Pa New: Sunday afternoon while my husband and I and my grandfather, I. F. Shidley, were out looking for spring mushrooms on a North Beaver township farm, we found one which measured six inches long and around the largest part it measured seven inches. Mrs. Lawrence Craven, R. D. 1, Wampum.

Residents on North Jefferson street have been complaining lately about youngsters breaking street lights and endangering traffic. Today it was said the youngsters are known and unless the vandalism ceases, some of them will be arrested.

Public Library Will Be Closed For One Month

Extensive Improvements To Be Made; Closing Date Is May 27 At 9 P. M.

Free Public Library at North and Mercer streets will close Tuesday evening, May 27 at 9 p. m., for the minimum of one month, for the purpose of having erected two additional stacks of steel shelving in the main body of the library, it is announced today.

Two new stacks will be built directly above the present deck and each will be approximately six and one half feet in height. A new lighting system will also be installed at this time.

Public is urged to use the library extensively and get all books needed for the month. Branches of the library will remain open, Miss Alice Sterling, librarian announced today.

Plans were made for this additional shelving when the building was remodeled for the library, however lack of funds prohibited at that time and shortages during the war period prevented the construction at an earlier date.

King Of Britain May Appeal To India Leaders

LONDON, May 20.—(INS)—King George VI was reported today to be planning a direct appeal to political leaders of India to resolve their differences and avert the possibility of civil war.

The monarch was said by the political expert of the London Evening Standard to be planning the appeal in his capacity as emperor of India.

The writer cited this possibility as Viscount Mountbatten, viceroy of India, conferred with British colonial authorities in the India office on the urgency of the India crisis.

King George reportedly will ask the Indian leaders to strive for an agreement on a future constitution for an independent nation so that the proposed handing over of power by Britain to the Indians can be carried out smoothly within 13 months.

Couple Wanted In Toledo, Ohio, Held In Iowa

TOLEDO, O., May 20.—(INS)—The job of bringing the Harold and Florence Lehaney first-degree murder case to a speedy close rested largely today with Lucas County prosecutors after the couple's capture in Waterloo, Iowa.

A 25-day search for the 41-year-old fugitives ended a few minutes after noon yesterday. Lehaney, an ex-convict, was picked up at the President Hotel, where he had been working three weeks as a dish washer. His wife was nabbed at a trailer camp where the family had been living.

The Iowa officers reported that in preliminary questioning the couple denied any knowledge of how Jimmy Gleason, 4, of Toledo, and his two-year-old brother, Gerald, died.

The Lehaneyes were indicted May 12 for the fatal beating of the children. Jimmy was found dead in his crib by his war-wounded mother, Mrs. Virginia Gleason, 26, the morning after the Lehaney family fled Toledo. Gerald died early in March. Mrs. Gleason and her family boarded with the Lehaneyes.

Barry said the agreement calls for an increase of $4.40 a week in the basic wage rates. He said the workmen would get an additional 35 cents a week through increased transfer allowances, increases for split shifts and an increase for early starting time.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(INS)—Sen. Hickenlooper (R) Iowa, today interpreted Soviet opposition to a "rigid" atomic energy inspection program as "definite evidence" that the Russians are unwilling to cooperate in the solution of the atomic problem.

Hickenlooper, chairman of the Congressional Atomic committee, made the statement in commenting on an address in New York last night by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

The senator said that Gromyko was "completely inaccurate" in asserting Americans have an "illusion" that the United States has a monopoly on the atomic bomb.

He pointed out that the U. S. (Continued on Page Two)

Senate Prepares For Warm Battle On Tax Measure

Four Billion Tax Reduction
Bill Scheduled For Consideration Today

DEMOCRATS SEEK TO DELAY ACTION
By WILLIAM THEIS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 20.—GOP leaders cleared the Senate deck today for the hottest tax bill fight since 1943 when the then majority leader Barkley (D) Ky. resigned in protest over a White House tax veto.

Democrats, now in the minority, agreed to let four billion dollar tax relief bill come up late today without opposition.

Their fight against immediate action will be made after a day or two of debate when Sen. George (D) Ga. will move to postpone consideration of the House-approved bill until June 10. Even Republicans concede the vote on this "test" will be close.

Sen. Millican (R) Col., Senate finance chairman, said he will open debate on the 10-to-30 percent tax reduction measure after the Senate disposes of its pending business, the scientific foundation bill. Both sides agreed to vote at 3:30 p. m. EDT on the science legislation.

Some Democratic senators talked for a while of trying to call up the rent control bill ahead of the tax measure. The idea was dropped.

Greece Charges Her Neighbors Cause Trouble

(BULLETIN)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., May 20.—(INS)—Greece appeared before the United Nations security council today and accused her three Soviet-dominated neighbors of fomenting renewed border incidents after departure of the Balkan investigation commission.

The charges against Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria were placed before the 11-nation tribunal by Vassil Dendramis, Greek ambassador to the United States, in refuting allegations that the Greek regime is responsible for all Balkan border disorders.

A few moments previously, the Albanian defended the refusal of his government to cooperate with the subsidiary Balkan "watch-dog" group now keeping an eye on the northern Greek borders from Salonica.

Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko and U. S. Deputy Representative Herschel V. Johnson again sat opposite each other in silence, evidently unprepared after their personal clash over Yugoslavia's tirade against Greece at the last council session.

Dendramis told the council that not only past incidents endanger international peace but in particular those occurring at this moment.

Chinese Students In Demonstration

NANKING, May 20.—(INS)—Six thousand Chinese students staged a huge protest demonstration in Nanking today against continuance of China's civil war and engaged in clashes with the police in which one demonstrator was reported killed.

Scores of students were injured, 11 of them seriously, as riots flared in the national capital which President Chiang Kai-Shek was addressing the People's Political Council in the heavily guarded assembly building.

The demonstration, protesting also against the government's educational and economic policies while demanding peace with China's Communist forces, continued throughout the day in defiance of a stern warning by Chiang.

The Generalissimo had announced all necessary measures would be taken to crush student outbreaks which he charged were Communist-fostered.

Scientists Of World View Eclipse Of Sun From Brazil Today

(BULLETIN)

RIO DE JANEIRO, May 20.—(INS)—A total eclipse of the sun—one of the grandest phenomena of nature—was observed with apparently complete success today by an international team of scientists in the highlands of Brazil.

By RICHARD DYER
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

BOVAVIUA, MINAS GERAIS, Brazil, (By telephone to Rio de Janeiro), May 20.—(INS)—One of the grandest phenomena of nature—a total eclipse of the sun—was laid bare to the marvels of modern science today.

With fifty top-flight scientists from all over the world on hand to view the event from vantage points in the Brazilian highlands, a huge United States Army Air Force B-29 roared up to an altitude of 20 thousand feet to photograph the corona and other aspects of the rare occurrence.

High altitude cirrus clouds did not interfere with initial observations and from 8 a. m. to 8:38 a. m. (EDT), just before the time of complete totality, visibility was perfect.

That at least applied to the United States Air Force and National Geographic Society Expedition camped on a hilltop 14 miles from Bocaluva, which lies in jungle territory some 400 miles north of Rio de Janeiro itself.

The Soviet Expedition, however, was not so fortunate.

Russian scientists stationed at Araxa were unable to make observations at all. Rain blotted out their endeavors.

Legislative Attention On Teachers' Salaries

HARRISBURG, May 20.—(INS)—Legislative attention was focused today on the Administration's program to boost teacher's salaries and establish an $1,800-a-year minimum annual rate with higher wages for college graduates.

Introduction of the legislation in the Senate drew fire from proponents of a teacher-sponsored measure to pile $1,000 on top of the current $1,400 a year minimum.

Rep. D. Raymond Sollenberger (R) Blair, who presented the teacher-sponsored legislation, said Gov. James H. Duff's plan "can't solve the teachers' cost of living problem" and insisted he would not retreat in his fight to have a $2,400 a year minimum enacted by the legislature.

Sen. Frederick B. Homsier (R) Lancaster, Education Committee chairman who sponsored Duff's bill, said he planned to give Senators a week in which to study its provisions before reporting it to the floor.

The bill proposed a $1,800-$2,400 salary range for non-college graduates teaching in second, third and fourth class districts and a $2,000-$2,700 scale for those in first class districts (Pittsburgh and Philadelphia).

Holders of college degrees would come under a schedule running from $2,000-$3,600.

Gen. Eisenhower Speaks To D.A.R.

Army Chief Of Staff Addresses Opening Of Assembly At Washington

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(INS)—Some 4,500 delegates to the 56th DAR convention settled down today to the framing of resolutions expected to pledge support to the fight against subversive activity in the United States.

The delegates gave a rousing ovation to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, army chief of staff, at the opening of the assembly as he warned against "vicious cults" which seek, he said, to undermine democracy.

The chief of staff told the convention:

"They recognize as our primary strength the unity of our people and so use every plausible argument to create division. Industrially, socially, politically, they seek to divide and confuse."

"Vicious Cults"

Eisenhower said that these "vicious cults" disguise by propaganda the "sword of dictatorship" that is so clearly evident in every form of statism.

He added:

"Their real chance comes from failure on our part to live up honestly and persistently to the true principles on which this country was founded."

Previously the delegates heard Mrs. Julius Y. Talmadge, outgoing president general of the DAR, declare that communism in the United States must be stopped.

Question Man In Woman's Death In New York City

NEW YORK, May 20.—(INS)—Victor "Junston" 49, owner of the Broadway Tool and Machine Co., Elizabeth, N. J., was held for questioning today in connection with the death of Dr. Gertrude Behrens.

Dr. Behrens, 45, maintained offices on the lower east side but lived alone in a penthouse apartment on West End avenue.

She was found dead in the bathtub on her penthouse. The medical examiner was to determine the cause of death. It was reported there was no water in the tub and that there were no marks of violence on her body.

Police were led to discover her body when Mrs. Christine Hamilton, aunt of Johnston called officers "to take care of a man coming out of an alcoholic stupor".

In mumbled to police he said he was a "friend of Dr. Behrens and that she was dead. In making a routine check police found Dr. Behrens' body.

Marshall Says No New Pleas For Aid Are In Sight

Secretary's Statement On Truman's Aid Program Needs Is Surprise To Conference

OCCUPATION AREAS
NEED MORE FUNDS
(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(INS)—Secretary of State Marshall declared today that at the present time he can see no further need for appropriations such as the 400-million dollars authorized in connection with President Truman's Greek-Turkish aid program.

Marshall's statement came as a surprise inasmuch as numerous reports indicated that similar programs would be needed in other parts of the world to carry out the president's so-called "stop-communism" plan.

Marshall, speaking freely at a news conference, said the whole situation was being studied, but that he personally could not foresee any need to ask Congress for more funds for this purpose in the immediate foreseeable future.

However, the secretary drew a distinction between the Greek-Turkish program and the program for occupied areas which would involve Korea, Japan and Germany.

These will be provided for, he indicated, when the war department budget request is presented to Congress.

In his discussion, Marshall declared that it would be impossible for the state department to go into any great and specific detail on the projects for which Greek and Turkish aid appropriations will be used.

This questions had been raised by Rep. John Taber (R) N. Y., house appropriations committee chairman, who said he would demand such.

Boom In Grain Prices Blamed On Government

Congressman Criticizes Purchase Of Nearly Twenty Million Bushels Of Wheat In Day

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(INS)—Rep. Andrew (R) Minn., decried the purchase of nearly twenty million bushels of wheat in one day for initiating a "speculative boom in grain prices."

Andersen, chairman of a House agriculture subcommittee, asked for records to grain and flour purchases made by the CCC for foreign relief during the last seven months. The Minnesota congressman blamed CCC buying policy for an "inflationary spiral of grains and other foodstuffs."

Criticizes U. S. Action

He centered his criticism on the government purchase of nearly twenty million bushels of wheat in one day for initiating a "speculative boom in grain prices."

Andersen charged the CCC forty million dollar purchase on January 20 was "ill-timed planning" in that it coincided with a Department of Agriculture announcement that the shipment of 400 million bushels of grains overseas would be completed May 1—two months ahead of schedule.

He contended the one-day CCC purchase was "the go-ahead sign for the bull market and the green light for the wild speculation which took place during January, February and March."

Andersen announced his investigation would be postponed until the CCC records are submitted.

India Leaders May Be Called To Conference

LONDON, May 20.—(INS)—Informal talks today said that Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee may invite the leaders of India's major factions to London in the near future for a roundtable conference.

The purpose, they added, would be to make a final attempt to obtain agreement for a peaceful partition of India to prevent almost certain civil war.

According to these informants, the London conference would take the place of that arranged by Viscount Mountbatten, viceroy of India, at Simla on June 2.

See Substitutes In Black Market

FRANKFURT, May 20.—(INS)—Coffee will replace "King Cigarette" as the chief item of currency in the German black market.

This was the consensus of American GI's and German civilians in Frankfurt polled today on their reactions to the ban on unrestricted tobacco shipments from the United States.

Chocolate bars were rated second and candies third.

The first reaction of those polled was that the ban on GI cigarettes was "the broadside of Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American Occupation commander, into cigarette racketeering will not smash the black market."

They predicted it will, however, largely succeed in ending the role of GI's as the main suppliers.

Arthur Mometer

He used to be a loyal Pennsylvanian, who thought his state the best one in the land. The scenery, he boasted, was unusual, the mountains and the valleys simply grand. But since he left to live in California you'd think at least he was a native son, superlatives are common when he's talking, they have the town in scenery and fun. He boasts of radiant sunsets back of mountains, of glamour girls (who come from Iowa) he's set for life, I guess, in California. The weathers warm and seventy-six today.

Armed Service Merger Hearings Re-Opening Asked

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(INS)—The Senate Armed Services committee decides today whether to re-open hearings on President Truman's compromise merger bill.

Whether the measure will be acted upon at this session of Congress probably hinges on the decision. New Hearings further will re-open the already-fading chances for action before the summer recess.

Sen. Edward V. Robertson (R) Wyo., spearheading the opposition to the unification plan, called on the committee again to obtain "a complete test setup" of the program before it acts on the bill.

The committee voted tentatively to close hearings last week, over the protest of Robertson and four others.

Asks Hearing
At the same time Robertson launched a fight for his substitute bill, which would set up a national defense council composed of cabinet heads of the armed services and heads of civilian war agencies, with a "coordinator" to correlate activities of the departments.

The Wyoming senator asked that witnesses be heard on his proposal as a possible compromise.

He backed his demands with a blast at the hearing procedure, declaring that, for the most part, the committee headed by Sen. Gurney (R) N.D. heard only what he termed "controlled" witnesses. Robertson said:

"The only two uncontrolled witnesses they have had are Admiral Ernest J. King, who is retired, and Ferdinand Eberstadt, a civilian. Both were against the merger."

when they learned that minority leaders had assured Millikin the tax legislation could be brought up without a scrap.

Await Vote On Postponement
Sen. Lucas (D) Ill., sponsor of a strongly-supported Democratic substitute for the GOP bill, promised that he would not vote for any move to displace the tax proposal with rent control. Lucas said he would not make his real bid for Senate support on the substitute plan until a vote has been taken on George's postponement motion.

Millikin said he was confident the Republicans will "have the votes" to defeat George's move. George, ranking Democrat on the finance committee, will argue that by June 10 Congress will know better what the federal fiscal picture is and whether the GOP scale of tax cuts is "safe" for the treasury.

Leaders on both sides concede privately that President Truman will have a "tough" decision on approving or rejecting a bill granting tax relief to forty-million odd Americans in a pre-election year.

Truman Opposed
Mr. Truman has made it plain to date he is opposed to tax reduction at this time. Secretary of the Treasury Snyder told the House Ways and Means committee yesterday, however, that a period of tax reduction is "approaching." He declined to say when it would arrive.

The GOP tax bill this year would grant reductions in the Senate version, ranging from 30 percent up to $1,000 income; 20 percent from $1,000 to $29,000; 15 percent from $29,000 to $302,000; and 10 percent above $302,000.

Lucas would give all taxpayers an increase of $100 in personal exemptions, cut surtax rates two points and permit husbands and wives to split income for tax purposes in all states. He claims his bill would give the low-income taxpayers a "better break."

JOINS ARMY AIR FORCE
Donald E. Swadener, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. I. Swadener of 704 Cleveland avenue, left this morning for San Antonio, Tex., where he will take his basic training with the Army Air Force. He has enlisted for three years service.

Conferees On Labor Measure Make Progress

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(INS)—House and Senate conferees moved into more vital parts of the Labor Bill today.

Expected to be reached for definite action was the House provision that would outlaw the welfare fund of John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers.

Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, conference chairman, forecast that the House group would yield to the Senate conferees and drop the welfare from its bill.

Progress of the compromising procedure put the group into the issues of unfair labor practices of employers and employees—a portion of the bill on which the two houses divided most sharply.

Besides banning welfare funds, the House put a flat prohibition on a long list of practices, including any labor union initiation fee in excess of $25, work permits and strikes other than for wages and hours.

details before approving the 400-million dollars which the bill authorizes.

Marshall declared that the United States would have to get people into the field before finding out in exact detail what needs to be done.

Other Highlights
Other highlights of Marshall's news conference were:

1. The progress of events in Argentina are being carefully observed. Further events in Argentina are a matter of constant consideration, although United States policy is still based on the April, 1946, statement which set certain requirements before the United States would enter into a mutual assistance pact with the southern republic. He had no comment on again-revived reports that Spruille Braden would resign as assistant secretary of state or that Ambassador to Buenos Aires George S. Messersmith would be recalled.

2. Because he is "superstitious," Marshall declined to predict whether the forthcoming U. S.-Soviet meeting on Korea would "click." He added that he did not believe that the funds which will be sought to restore the southern zone of Korea would have any effect very soon.

3. By declining to comment on renewed reports that Summer Welles might be recalled to an important post in the state department, Marshall appeared to stimulate, rather than still, speculation along this line.

Bodies Badly Mangled
The bodies were horribly mangled and at least one was decapitated. Provincial police said the landing gear apparently had been lowered, indicating the craft may have had mechanical trouble. Witnesses said they saw landing lights flash on before a reverberating crash signaled the fate of the craft.

Mrs. Jack Kidd of East Sandwich, Ont., said the plane roared so low over her home that the structure vibrated violently. She said the engines screamed intermittently, leading her to believe the pilot was attempting to gain altitude.

Military officials said the fliers were enroute to Selridge Field to participate in Michigan's air week, opening next Saturday.

nized her from the bed in which she had lain for months fighting the complications of a broken hip, and rallied. Bravely, she told her physician:

"I am going to be better tomorrow."

To Margaret, with a feeble smile and dancing eyes, Mother Truman said:

"Margaret, when are you going to sing for me?"

The president, who spent 13 hours at his mother's bedside, was overjoyed.

For fears had heightened during the day as his mother became steadily weaker.

The fighting spirit of the brave little lady came to the fore again at mid-day.

"Holding Her Own"
GRANDVIEW, Mo., May 20.—(INS)—President Truman's mother was "holding her own" today.

Brig. Gen. Wallace Graham, presidential physician attending Mrs. Truman, said at 10:30 a. m. CST, "Mother Truman is just about holding her own."

"Her temperature is normal. She is breathing fairly regularly."

The remarkable little 94-year-old lady again astonished her physician by getting out of bed and sitting up in a rocking chair for an hour and a half. She had spent a restless night, however.

It was the second time since she fell and broke her right hip three months ago, that Mrs. Truman had been able to get out of bed.

She was carried to her rocking chair this morning and talked animatedly to the president and other members of her family.

Committee Favors
Lovett Nomination

Lovett, former assistant secretary of war, appeared before the committee in a closed session with Acheson. Acheson's resignation already has been accepted by President Truman but he agreed to stay on for a few weeks to acquaint Lovett with his new duties.

Sen. Vandenberg (R) Mich., committee chairman, announced that the committee also agreed to hold hearings on the Anglo-American oil agreement June 2 and 3.

Introduce Bill To End Rationing Of Sugar At Once

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(INS)—Sens. McCarthy (R) Wis., and Brickner (R) Ohio, introduced a bill today to end sugar rationing immediately.

McCarthy said he was "confident we can pass it." He and Brickner planned to ask the Senate Banking Committee for prompt hearings on the measure.

The legislature would allow the secretary of agriculture to continue sugar inventory controls, but sugar controls would end October 31 this year under present authority.

McCarthy said there is now "a surplus of sugar" with some 300,000 tons "going begging for a buyer" in Cuba.

He told newsmen that the Agriculture Department's recent order making the July 1 ten pound sugar ration stamp for housewives good on June 1. McCarthy said this had the effect of cutting housewives' sugar by 50 percent. Another ten pounds becomes available October 1.

LIGHTS GO ON
VANCOUVER, Wash.—(INS)—It took 30 years to light the landmark Interstate Bridge between Portland, Ore., and Vancouver, Wash. One night recently, the bridge blazed forth with a $60,000 set of glareproof lights to cut traffic mishaps. The first lighting system in 1917 was discontinued because it allegedly caused accidents because of the glare created.

For God, Country and Eastern Standard Time

If anyone wants the 60 minutes that will be "lost" Sunday when the Nation's Capital goes on daylight saving time, he can find it in the office of Sen. John Overton (D., La.).

The rest of the city's clocks will be pushed ahead an hour at 2 a. m. (EST), but Mr. Overton's clock will continue undisturbed "on God's time."

ATT: D. C. BOSSES
The Gentleman from Louisiana is leaving town Monday, but his interests will be protected by a sign on the door that reads "this office runs on Standard Time only."

When the Senate passed the bill permitting District of Columbia Commissioners to settle the heated issue of summer time, Mr. Overton gave fair warning that he would have nothing to do with any "fast time."

Now that the Commissioners have decided to give it a try, Mr. Overton is convinced that the system of District Government has been turned upside down.

"Congress is now under the rule of the Commissioners," he said. But the Senator has figured out how he can "escape most of this foolishness."

DOGWOOD NEXT
His doctor has instructed him to take a trip because the Senator has been suffering from bronchial trouble.

Mr. Overton decided to go to Arizona "where people live on decent Standard Time." By the time he gets back, he figures Congress will be just about ready to recess.

"Then I can go back to Louisiana," he sighed. "We never have daylight saving in Louisiana. Everybody's happy there."

As for the future, Sen. Overton predicts that "these fanatics around here will want to advance the seasons next. They'll probably try to get the dogwood and the azaleas to bloom on Feb. 21 instead of March 21 and they'll want the cherry blossoms on March 1 instead of April 1."

Other vocal numbers included two groups of songs by Mrs. Clark McClelland with Mrs. S. Glenn McCracken as accompanist. She sang "Clouds" and "Weather Forecast" and to conclude the program "Corals" and "Let All My Life Be Music."

Two readings by Miss Jan Walker were included on the program. She first gave "Rest Cure" and later "The Creation".

Piano solos by Miss June Vincent were "The Maiden's Wish" and "Scherzo."

The presentation was one much enjoyed by the group and received appreciation applause. Those who took part were presented by Mrs. Thomas G. Shreffler, Fine Arts department chairman.

Mrs. J. Edward Everett, president of Woman's club, gave a brief report of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's clubs convention in Buck Hill Falls.

Tea was then served from a very beautifully appointed tea table with Mrs. Everett presiding. On the tea committee were Mrs. E. F. Henderson, Mrs. Roy Conway, Mrs. J. Glenn Berry, Mrs. Charles Gardner, and Mrs. Walker Balentine.

READING CIRCLE '91 SPRING LUNCHEON

Reading Circle '91 wound up its year with a lovely spring luncheon in the coral room of The Castleton Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Places for 22 were set at an attractively arranged table centered with dainty spring wild flowers and simulated maypoles. The seasonal motif was further carried out in the place-cards and favors.

Mrs. C. D. Parker gave the invocation.

After luncheon members answered roll call by naming an author.

Dispensing with routine business, the gathering was entertained by a delightful and refreshing program arranged by the following committee: Miss Iretta V. Dart, Mrs. Frank Hanna, Mrs. R. E. Albion, and Mrs. Lester Waite.

To open the program Mrs. George E. Strehler in her rich contralto sang two numbers, "Coming Home" by Willoughby and "Land of the Sky Blue Waters" by Cadman. Mrs. John F. Love's talented accompaniment added much to the effectiveness of this group of solos.

Then members heard Mrs. W. H. Shipley give a splendid review of "Anna and the King of Siam" in her own inimitable style.

As a final number Mrs. Strehler sang to her own accompaniment "Lindy Lou" by Lily Strickler.

Balance of the afternoon was spent visiting and reminiscing. Before departing the assemblage gave a rising vote of thanks to the committee.

Dewey Will Not Repudiate Ives

ALBANY, May 20.—The turmoil in Washington over the omnibus labor bill has been felt even here in tranquil Albany. The effort to push Gov. Thomas E. Dewey into declaring his views on federal labor legislation has increased as the controversy over the measure itself has increased.

Part of that effort is to try to needle Dewey into saying whether he does or does not agree with the stand taken by Republican Senator Irving M. Ives of New York. Ives has been opposed to the bill with considerable success, the so called strengthening amendments urged in the Senate by Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Thereby he has stirred the ire of right-wing Republicans in the state. They refer to him in indignant letters and angry conversation as "that New Deal Republican."

Now it is a fact that Dewey, after considerable jockeying, a proved Ives for the senatorial nomination last fall. Ives was elected in the Dewey landslide. Is he, therefore, Dewey's man and does he speak for Dewey on labor legislation?

Question Beside Point
When you look over Ives' background, you see at once that this question is beside the point. Ives has been through the fire of political battle and he has emerged with a reputation for high integrity and great know-how in government. To several visitors, Dewey has expressed the belief that Ives is the best qualified man to enter the Senate of the United States in many years.

Ives was in politics before Dewey was heard of. He was for many years majority leader of the upper house of the state legislature. He directed several bipartisan investigations into the ills of our time.

One of them was on the whole problem of labor and industry. One of the things that came out of that thorough, patient investigation was the school of industrial relations at Cornell University, of which Ives became the first head. His stand on the omnibus labor bill was based on his knowledge and his convictions.

SHOULD WIFE SIGN HUSBAND'S NAME

Question: When a woman is temporarily in a different town from her husband and has made friends with whom he is not acquainted, should she sign his name as well as hers to greeting cards, etc?

Answer: If they are social acquaintances and she has spoken to them of her husband, she might sign his name also. If they are business acquaintances, her name will suffice.

Question: When one has a formal wedding invitation from a close friend, is it permissible, if you cannot attend, to write a note of regret and wish the friend happiness? Or must it be strictly formal?

Answer: Your reply must be formal. However, you may write a note, too, wishing her happiness or pay her a call after she returns from her honeymoon.

Question: Should a formal wedding invitation be addressed to both a man and his wife?

Answer: It should be addressed to both of them.

Question: Who pays the clergyman's fee at a wedding ceremony?

Answer: The groom actually pays the fee which the best man presents to the clergyman.

Question: I have very high cheek bones. How should I apply rouge?

Answer: Use your rouge sparingly. Have just a slight suggestion of color in your cheeks. Place your rouge below the cheek bone, the color fading out softly over the high point of the bones and being most definite below them in toward the nose.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped self-addressed envelopes.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CHILD NEEDS MANY PLAYMATES

If your child rarely or never mingled with other children before he entered school you might have been able, during that time, to manage him at home rather easily. Indeed, some mothers find it so easy to mold a tot to be as they wish, if he is not exposed to other children, that they will purposely keep him away from them.

Some other mothers live where there are no other children near. In either case, no matter how good the child has been in terms of the usual standards of adults, he is sure to have a lot of trouble—so are his parents and teachers—when he begins to play freely with other children, or enters school.

Under Favorable Conditions
Under most favorable conditions the child's learning to get on well with other children is not easy. And if he has had little or no practice at being with other children near his age, before he is five or six, how stupendous is his problem.

The normal socializing of a child is a long and slow process. It involves thousands and thousands of different experiences in as many different situations. The child who enters school without such normal experience is handicapped about as much as a person entering a course in higher mathematics would be if he never has learned any arithmetic.

An Only Child
See the tragedy in this sentence from a mother's letter: "He is an only child and had no playmates until he went to school."

Earlier in that letter, this very conscientious mother wrote: "Our son five and a half years of age is constantly getting into trouble at school. He is stubborn there, hits other children, will not pay attention, also will not stop talking nor mind the teacher. He seems not to care about anyone there."

"All these things are against him but he has a great many good points, too. He goes to bed at seven without being told, sleeps well, minds at home, has very good eating habits, is also very neat and mannerly. He is very intelligent and can do most anything—if he wants to."

The Beginners' Class
"This child is large for his age. He seems to think he is too big for the beginners' class. We have tried all we know how to do to make him happy and to make him behave. His answer to why he does these things is, 'I don't know.' Would you advise getting another child to live with us? He is an adopted child, so I know we could love another."

As I wrote her, another child in the family a bit older than he is might be helpful to him, a child he could not easily boss around. I advise that you don't talk much or do much directly at home about his bad behavior at school but let him know you have assured the teacher (Continued on Page Six)

From Me To You

Last week we mentioned the old North Hill Fair Grounds . . . and wondered at the time if anyone remembered the spot . . . here is a letter from a good citizen . . . we appreciate it very much.

"Concerning the North Hill Fairgrounds of which you inquired in your column in The News of May 12, 1947, I will say that I can recall it quite well. The main entrance was just about where Edison Ave. intersects Highland.

It is my belief that the last fair was held on these grounds in 1897. At this time Judge William D. Wallace performed a wedding ceremony uniting in marriage Mr. Frank Skidmore and Miss Evelyn Hall of this city. I recall being present in company with my father. The ceremony was performed on a platform in front of the grandstand before a large crowd. The bride and groom received many and various presents from local merchants, together with the cheers and good wishes of the crowd. In 1895-'96 I remember the backs and band-wagons that hauled the customers up to the fair. In the period mentioned they were still racing circles. Mr. L. S. Hoyt owned a fast horse at this time. I seem to recall that the late ex-Sheriff Whaley also had a horse on the track.

After 1897 the fair grounds remained idle, except for a balloon ascension and exhibitions of various sorts. Some years later the grounds were sold off in building lots. The fair grounds extended west of Highland Ave., including the location of the Hoyt residences of today.

POSTSCRIPT
Frank Skidmore, groom at the fairgrounds wedding was the city police officer shot by "Paddy" Walte in August of 1904.

A water pump . . . used by crowds at the above mentioned fair grounds is still used today . . . it is located in the back yard of the Frank Bollinger residence on Winter avenue . . . do we have any more memories?

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

I have had so many inquiries from readers all over the country about my powder room that I am unable to answer all the letters individually. I therefore herewith publish this official bulletin:

The powder room in the Connecticut home of Erich Brandeis, author of a daily column, is completed and has found the general approval of most of his friends and acquaintances who have seen and used it.

Several of the women, however, have made suggestions for alterations.

The black wallpaper with the red roses has been criticized by a few. One woman suggested a green, pastel paint instead. Another would have preferred pink. A third advised us to remove the black paper with red roses and substitute a red paper with black roses.

The wash basin, according to some of our visitors, is too far over to the right; according to others, too far to the left. It should have been a little higher, according to one; a little lower, according to another.

The linoleum on the floor is a few shades too dark. In the opinion of an aunt. It should have had some kind of border around the edges, thought one of my wife's nieces.

The towel holder does not seem to be quite large enough and is too close to the top of the basin, thus causing the edges of the guest towels to get wet at the bottom. (At least my brother-in-law thinks so.)

Apparently the mirror over the dressing table should have been square instead of oval. I overheard a neighbor remark to another neighbor, to which the other neighbor replied that people in our circumstances could well have afforded another coat of paint on the door.

The only people who seem to be completely satisfied with our powder room are plumber, the carpenter, the linoleum fellow, the painter and the electrician, all of whom have submitted their bills and have been paid.

And also completely satisfied seems to be our cleaning woman, who weighs about two hundred pounds and finds this little room a wonderful place in which to chip off the paint with the vacuum cleaner and mop.

Incidentally, my wife and I carefully catalogued all the suggestions and criticisms and analyzed each of them.

We considered them excellent and decided to leave the powder room just as it is.

We also decided that it would be perfectly all right with us if anybody who doesn't like our powder room as it is would jolly well stay at home and use his or her own powder room.

Our kitchen is going to be done over next.

But I assure you that we won't tell a soul anything about it. (Copyright, 1947, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WAGNER, COBB AND OTHERS

The national game of baseball is off for another year.

When Albert G. Spalding and the Honorable Morgan G. Bulkeley launched the National League in Chicago back in 1876, they crystallized what had been up to that time the dream of young men playing at a game which had become popular from the Atlantic seaboard to the valley of the Mississippi.

The National League had a stormy existence. There were thirty-one clubs admitted at various times. The Mutual Club of New York and the Cincinnati and Philadelphia Clubs were expelled. Philadelphia was afterward admitted under the leadership of John T. Brush in 1890. A good many of the Clubs resigned—the Hartford, the St. Louis (afterward admitted again in 1892 under Chris Vonder Ahe), the Louisville, the Indianapolis, the Milwaukee, the Providence, the Buffalo, the Cleveland, the Syracuse, the Troy, the Worcester (Mass.), the Detroit, the Baltimore and the Washington. EYES AND DISEASES

Sometimes the eyes are examined to find out about diseases in some other part of the body.

The vision may be good; the eyes may be able to see as well as ever, but they may show indications of disease somewhere else.

When an eye doctor examines the eyes he takes the whole body into consideration.

Sometimes examination of the eyes will call attention to a disease which has not shown any other signs yet.

Sometimes a disease will cause eye trouble which disappears when the disease is cured.

The patient may think that he needs glasses when the cause of his poor eye sight is somewhere else.

Atomic Energy Commission Is "Operation Migrate" State Department Fears For 1948 Budget War Dept. Building Has Secret Corridors

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Chairman David E. Lillenthal, of the Atomic Energy Commission, calls the group's tremendous job "Operation Migrate." It's a "super-colossal headache—a splitting one, at that," he explains.

Lillenthal pointed out that the atomic age has made science topsy-turvy. For example, he said, gold is now turned into mercury, instead of vice versa as the ancient alchemists tried to do.

The chairman said this is necessary to isolate a certain isotope of mercury which emits a wave length of radiation used as a standard of measurement in the production of atomic energy.

"There's nothing revolutionary about this," Lillenthal added, "we just happen to live at a time in which a good standard of measurement is worth more than gold."

OVERSHADOWING even the tension between the Western Powers and Russia are the fears of the State department over its 1948 budget.

The Capitol Leaders feel that the ax-wielding of the House appropriations committee will make a heavy dent on its diplomatic operations. These operations include heavy burdens in economics, trade, oil, aviation and propaganda—fields which received little attention in peace-time days.

Many State department divisions are outgrowths of the war. President Truman wrapped them into the department when war ended and they have not yet been fully assimilated.

Hence, the magnitude of its operations have increased many-fold and the department is worried about how it can provide for its war orphans if the budget is cut too drastically.

AMERICA'S MODERN WOMEN are following custom established 4,500 years ago in spending in excess of 20 million dollars a year to make their hands beautiful.

Although the staggering sum represents a virtual new high in modern spending on all sorts of manicure and cosmetic preparations for the hands, the practice itself has been dated back to the glamor girls of Egypt in 2500 B. C.

The Commerce department reports that "the current popularity of deep-toned enamel is not a 20th century craze, but a revival of a fashion from older civilizations."

DESPITE EFFORTS of Secretary of State George C. Marshall to keep diplomacy open and his desire to drop the stamp of the military from his regime in the department, his hopes may be thwarted.

Trouble is that the new State department building, which was built for the War department, was not constructed for openness.

Where the old State department offices were built along wide corridors, in which anyone could see who was traveling about on official business, the new building has a series of hidden corridors. Officials may visit each other, or have outsiders visit them, without any open exposure of their movements.

For example, Marshall's office is connected by a private corridor with a series of other suites in which are housed undersecretaries and assistant secretaries. Most of the experts called in for consultation can move from their offices to Marshall's without appearing in the public passageway.

All this would be extremely valuable for military secrecy, but comes as a shock to newsmen, who are used to guessing what is in the secretary's mind by checking the officials and diplomats who called on him.

The most disturbing factor—to reports—is that foreign ambassadors, ministers and attaches can make their calls without being spotted. They can drive their cars into a basement of the new building, enter a private elevator lifting them to Marshall's office and return by the same route.

In View Of The News

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

Britain's problems of empire appear headed today for a new climax in India.

Reports of Moslem-Hindu rioting are still coming in. They underscore the dangers of major outbreaks that could plunge the sub-continent with its 400 million people into chaos and ruin.

The British anxiously watched the costly casualty figures of the recent flareups between Moslems and Hindus and are determined to prevent the transfer of power to the Indians from becoming a signal for more bloodshed.

Time is now running out on the British plan to get both Hindus and Moslems together in the task of preparing India for independence.

The British have announced that they will quit India by June of 1948 under the independence schedule.

Agreement Efforts Fail
While all efforts to bring about a Moslem-Hindu agreement have failed thus far, both groups must decide soon on the partition issue.

That some form of partition must be worked out seems certain. The awkward problem of what to do about the Indian army appears to be one that needs solving.

Two men seem to have it in their power to avert change in India. They are 77-year-old wizened, London-educated Mohandas K. Gandhi, who has been looked to for leadership by Hindus down through the years, and veteran political leader Mohamed Ali Jinnah, head of the Moslem League.

Drops Feelers
Jinnah has dropped feelers now and then indicating he may be willing to settle one of the chief Indian problems by modifying his demands for Pakistan—or a separate Moslem state—including the Punjab and northwest frontier.

But his attitude has been hedgy and no one seems to have been able to pin him down.

The Congress party leaders—with the exception of Gandhi—have recently indicated a willingness to talk things over on the basis of partitioning the rich provinces of the Punjab and northwest frontier.

In the Punjab, the Moslems outnumber the Hindus 16 million to 7 million and in the northwest frontier province latest figures show there are about three million Moslems to 200,000 Hindus.

The Hindus, who are in the majority in India as a whole, have seemed willing to come to terms with the Moslems on the basis of splitting up the provinces in view of the large Hindu and other minority groups living there. Gandhi however seems to have dimmed hope of a speedy settlement of the issue by his adamant stand against dividing India.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, May 20.—(INS)—Hollywood, which likes to film its glamour girls in bathtubs, has gone itself one better.

It's pulled out the smallest tub in history for curvaceous Maria Montez's ablutions in "The Exile" at Universal. It's even smaller than the wooden tub in which Irene Dunne took her famous bath at Paramount ten years ago.

It marks the fifth time that Maria has taken a bath for screen purposes.

It seems that in the days of King Charles ladies like the countess which Maria portrays, carried around copper tubs for bathing purposes, or, at least, that's what the studio says.

Be that as it may, Maria is in the tub, surrounded by the biggest batch of bubbles you ever laid eyes on.

Lou Costello has acquired a mighty sore mouth in the pursuit of his comic art.

For a scene in "The Wistful Widow of Wagon Gap" a gunman pulls a gun from his holster and sticks it in Lou's face. And that's what the man actually did—too realistically. Lou pointed to a carefully plastered up lip to show where the muzzle had banged him full force under the left nostril.

"Brother," said Lou, "I thought I'd been hit by a cannon."

Robert Montgomery and a big cast and crew have been working in the blazing heat of the back lot.

It's for a scene in a small New Mexico town—supposedly—in which Bob, playing a killer, gets off a bus intent on shooting a man who has harmed his brother.

The picture has the catchy title of "Ride the Pink Horse."

Bob is the busiest man on the set. Again he's the director as well as the star. It's much more difficult than when he made his unique "Lady in the Lake" for M-G-M, because in that he rarely appeared on the screen.

Now he has to set up the action and then go in and perform himself.

"This is really a tough scene," he explained, "it runs a full 540 feet of film."

BOY SCOUTS

Troop 19 Formed

Investiture ceremony officially forming troop 19 of Hillsville was held last week at the Mahoning township school, at which time 22 scouts were taken into the troop as charter members.

Thomas G. Allen, commissioner, presented the troop with its charter. Bessemer troop aided in the ceremony, while scouts of the Enon Valley and Edenburg units were special guests.

Joseph Procopio is scoutmaster of the new troop, with Sam Tiratto serving as junior assistant scoutmaster and James Veriotta as senior patrol leader.

John Veriotta is chairman of the troop committee, while other members are Chris Carbon, James Aiken and John Lott.

Vending Machines Reap Big Harvest Of Coins Annually

PHILADELPHIA, May 20.—(INS)—Americans are dropping $500,000,000 worth of pennies, nickels and dimes, a year into vending machines that throw back candy, chewing gum, peanuts, cigarettes, drinks and etcetera—mostly etcetera.

William M. Parks, acting regional director of the U. S. Department of Commerce, in Philadelphia, claims that the vending machine has invaded many comfortable—and profitable homes—in movie theatres, factories, mills, and office buildings. It no longer confines itself to standing out on the corner and in subway stations.

In Europe and England, the vending machine does even more business. The closing hour for business is 6 o'clock. Then the machine is pushed through the doorway on wheels or skids, to take care of the night trade.

And they offer all sorts of things for sale—perfumes, lipsticks, handkerchiefs and toilet and drug items, as well as the usual candies and gums.

In the future you can look for anything from books to beer in slot machines, according to Park.

WEIRTON TO HOLD FIRST MAYORALTY ELECTION JUNE 3

WEIRTON, W. Va., May 20.—(INS)—Citizens of Weirton will vote for the first time in history of the city for a mayor and five councilmen June 3.

The city recently gave up its title "the largest unincorporated city in the world" when citizens of Hollidays Cove, Narland Heights and Weirton Heights joined with voters of Weirton to establish a new city.

Weirton was founded in 1909 when ground for the first steel mill was broken and has mushroomed into a city covering 20 square miles. It has a population between 35,000 and 40,000, making it one of the leading towns in West Virginia.

Strikes have practically ended in Mexico since the government's announcement that illegal interruptions of production or operation would not be tolerated.

American Friends Committee Plans Many Institutes

International Relations Theme Of 13 Institutes Mapped For This Summer

PHILADELPHIA, May 20.—(INS)—Thirteen institutes of international relations and eight youth institutes, representing the largest and most comprehensive educational program attempted under the auspices of the American Friends Service Committee, will be held this summer.

Clarence E. Pickett, executive secretary, said the primary purpose of the institutes, which have been carried on for seventeen years by the Quaker organization, is to provide a critical and constructive study of international relations.

A distinguished faculty, representing many races, nations and points of view, have been gathered for the institutes. Among the faculty are: Lord Inverchapel, British ambassador to the United States; Jerry Voorhis, Democratic Congressman from California; T. Z. Koo, former adviser to the Chinese delegation to the United Nations Conference in San Francisco; and Edward Lindemann, professor at the New York School of Social Work at Columbia University.

Idea Behind Plan
The institutes, in their attempt to bring information and stimulation to men and women in all parts of the country, are based on the assumption that, not until work for peace becomes a grass-roots movement will it be able to get ahead of the forces of prejudice, ignorance, greed, fear and inertia.

They are held on centrally located college campuses in all areas of the United States. For a period of five to ten days, authorities in special fields discuss with students, teachers, housewives and community leaders the social, economic, political and religious basis of peace.

This year the institutes will open with a meeting on the Drake University Campus in Des Moines, Iowa, from May 31 to June 7.

Other campuses and locations on which the institutes will be held during the summer include Albright College, Reading, Pennsylvania—August 15-24.

The eight youth institutes are especially planned for students under 20 years of age. They will be held at the same time as the other meetings on the campuses of Mills College, Wellesley College and Whitaker College.

A youth institute also will be held at Camp Carondawanna, Zellenople, Pennsylvania, June 22-July 9.

TO TAKE SURVEY

HARRISBURG, May 20.—(INS)—Hundreds of college students were being recruited today by the state department of internal affairs to sample municipal financial problems throughout the state this summer.

The information will be correlated by the committee on Pennsylvania city problems, an organization of welfare and civic groups.

The proposed survey was pointed up by Gov. James H. Duff's recommendation that political subdivisions assume a greater share of financing proposed by teachers' salary increases.

Picture Of Local Home Takes Prize In Capital Art Show

Son Of Former High School Teacher
Wins Second Prize With Picture
Of McConahy Home

One of the pictures painted by George Beattie, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Beattie of Cleveland, O., while visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Mossman of 211 Park avenue, took second prize in the Washington, D. C., Water Color club's 51st annual exhibition, held in March.

The picture, entitled "Panorama", is that of the old McConahy home at the corner of East and Grant streets. Mrs. Beattie, the artist's mother, who was a teacher in New Castle senior high school prior to her marriage.

Although portrait is his field, the young artist has done many landscapes in the local district. He attended Cleveland School of Art, and has had a studio in Macon, Ga. He has just accepted an appointment as head of the art department at Brenau college in Gainesville, Ga. He now has two paintings in the Cleveland May art show, and two at the Southern art show in Richmond, Va.

Elks Will Enlist Military Volunteers

Fred D. Moser, exalted ruler of the B. P. O. E. Lodge No. 69, stated today that the local lodge of Elks would assist the government in enlisting young men graduating from high school this year. The government is making an effort to build up the armed forces with volunteers and have offered special inducements to high school graduates. Young men who are in this year's graduating class of any high school in the county are invited to get more information from Mr. Moser.

speaking. Dewey is for a labor bill that can be passed, if necessary, over President Truman's veto. Here, of course, he would seem to coincide with Ives's position, since Ives has argued repeatedly that it include a ban on industry-wide bargaining or other "tough" provisions would kill the chances for any legislation.

Another question is: Did Dewey warn Taft against putting Ives on the Senate labor committee? That report has frequently been printed. What Dewey actually said to Taft on this subject went more or less like this:

"If you want to have your own way in the committee you had better not appoint Ives. He is a new senator and there are other committees he is interested in. On the other hand, if he wants the assignment on labor, then I am for him."

Has Distinguished Himself
At any rate, that is the version accepted by the "Dewey team." Ives did get the assignment and he has played such an important part in shaping the labor bill that he has distinguished himself far more than most freshman senators ever do.

When he was campaigning for the presidency in 1944, Dewey made a labor speech at Seattle. In that speech he said:

"The national labor relations act is a good and necessary law. It acknowledges the trend of our times and will continue to be the law of the land. But that law has been working badly. It has failed to secure the industrial harmony we sought. It has failed because under the present administration, the whims of bureaucrats take the place of government by law."

Dewey would not say that today. He has moved quite a long way from such free-wheeling endorsement of the Wagner act. His labor speech was one of a series that led Democrats to apply a "me, too" tag to the Republican nominee.

With an overwhelming Republican legislature, Dewey put through at the last session a bill forbidding civil servants to strike under penalty of being fired. That brought angry denunciations from labor union chieftains.

How far Dewey would go in federal labor legislation, no one is likely to know before 1948. But talk of his repudiating Ives is a little foolish. There are those on the Dewey team acutely aware that, come '48, Ives will be a political ace in the hole should Dewey happen once again to be the Republican nominee.

MACHINE PRICES SAME
PITTSBURGH, May 20.—(INS)—There will be no increase in price for cigarettes obtained from vending machines in Allegheny county.

This was the decision of the Cigarette Merchandisers association which met yesterday in Pittsburgh to discuss the new state tax on cigarettes which becomes effective June 1.

Harry Rosen, secretary of the association, explained that the organization was "anxious to hold the line against a runaway inflationary price" and had agreed to retain the 20-cent vending machine price.

Manatees produce only one young annually, but it is nursed and guarded by the mother with great care. The young seem to be entirely helpless, but have few enemies (but man) after they attain their growth.

you hope she will discipline him as she sees fit.

Treated As Adult
I would guess that you at home have been so considerate of this lad and treated him so much as an adult that he naturally has readily conformed to your routines and wishes there. Perhaps you have made him feel too important and encouraged him to interrupt you and have his say when he likes. Nor has he had many of his wishes denied. Most of all, he just hasn't had practice in giving up to others and sharing with them and cooperating with them, such as comes from normal play with other children. Since he is large it might help him to be advanced a grade in case the school found him able to do the work and advised such advancement.

Encourage him to bring playmates to your home, first one at a time, more later. Don't look for much improvement all at once. In your extra envelopes I am enclosing my bulletins, "Tot Learning to Be Sociable," and "Your Child and His Playmates," which others may have by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y., enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

There is a Franco-Ethiopian railroad (487 miles long) which carries the bulk of Ethiopia's produce from the interior to the coast, but many caravan routes are still widely traveled.

A manatee is an American sea cow, now nearly extinct. It is still found in the West Indies, eastern Central America, and tropical South America. Manatees are large seal-like animals, sometimes 10 feet long and weighing more than a ton. Manatees were once plentiful along the coasts of Florida, but their helplessness led to their destruction, until now there are none but a small, protected herd in the Miami river.

CLEVELAND, May 20.—(INS)—Telephone service in Ohio sputtered along today as picketing Association of Communications Workers prevented more than 90 per cent of Ohio Federation of Telephone Workers from returning to their jobs.

TERM SOCIALITE'S

DEATH AS SUICIDE

RIDGEFIELD, Conn., May 20.—(INS)—A verdict of suicide was returned today in the death of Miss Sally Forbes, attractive 23-year-old socially registered New Yorker.

The body was found in the basement of the family home by her mother, Mrs. Isabelle Newton Forbes, suspended by a piece of clothesline from a beam. Only an hour earlier she had been chatting cheerfully with members of her family.

It was revealed in 1946 that an instrument to measure accurately the power of microwaves depends upon the temperature rise of water through which the waves are passed.

Townships Aid Ruled Against

Department Of Highways Says County Cannot Make Township Contributions

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

From a ruling of D. A. Bailey, township engineer of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways, the county will not be able to make any contributions from the liquid fuels tax fund for township road improvements this year.

Mr. Bailey's ruling came as an answer to a letter of Mrs. Myrtle L. McBride, secretary of the Neshannock township board of supervisors, in which she asked if such appropriations could be made. He replied that the county could make such appropriations if the money was budgeted for it and the department approved the request.

The county is not permitted to appropriate unencumbered funds to be received the following year. Neither can it make such payments until the money is received from the state. Inasmuch as the budget for this year does not provide for such appropriations it seems likely no appropriations will be made this year to the townships.

CONN EJECTED
A. Lewis Conn, director of veterans affairs for Lawrence county, has returned from Harrisburg where he attended a state-wide conference of such directors. At the conference, Brig-General Frank A. Weber was re-elected president of the association and Mr. Conn was named vice president.

REGISTRATION SLOW
Despite the fact that July 19 is the last day to register for the September 9 primary, registration has been slow since the books were opened after the November election of last year. The average is about 15 per cent.

There are thought to be some 7000 or 8000 unregistered voters in the county and in order to qualify for the primary election they must register. There is just two months left and if the county registration is to be anywhere near what it should be, many voters will have to get busy.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUZZLES

the Pittsburgh, the Brooklyn, the Cincinnati and the St. Louis constitute the present National League and have so constituted it since 1892.

Recall Old Timers

There are some oldtimers still in New Castle who can remember in their boyhood the members of the Neshannock Baseball club which was enjoying in '76 the reputation of being the best baseball Club in the country, or at least the people of New Castle thought it was. There was Charley Bennett, the great catcher, afterwards a member of the Detroit Team, and his fellow members—Bob Whaley, Bill Ellis, Ernest Williamson, Gene Richardson, Ed Bigley and Dick Polz, besides several others whose names I cannot recall, but Charley Bennett was the most famous. Williamson afterwards played for the Chicago Team. None of the players composing the old Neshannock Club are now living. Bob Whaley, who died recently, was the last to go. Bennett would probably rank today, as he did then, a great catcher who could hold a runner to his bag better than most catchers today. The basemen were all alert and on the signal from the baseman, Bennett seemingly about to return the ball to the pitcher would line it with great speed direct to the baseman, never looking at the base. He caught many a runner right then and there.

Albert Spalding became also the founder of the great sporting goods house, whose stores are spread all over the country and whose business constitutes one of the greatest manufacturing concerns and retail businesses in the nation. The National League was fortunate in the years succeeding its organization in having as Presidents of the League and Managers of the various Clubs, such men as Adrian Anson, Harry Wright, Frank Seelye, Edward H. Hanlon and Fred C. Clark. New Castle people will remember Fred Clark (as Captain and Manager of the Pittsburgh Team), John J. McGraw and France Chance—all of them fine exponents of the game.

American League
In 1901 Byron Bancroft Johnson and his associates organized the American League, consisting of the present membership of eight Clubs, together with the Milwaukee and Baltimore Clubs which have now dropped out of both Leagues. "Ban" Johnson, as he was known, organized this League because of many dissensions within the National League. Both Leagues, since 1901, have lived happy, peaceful lives due primarily to Kenesaw M. Landis, who elected as the representative by the two Leagues, as National Commissioner, with dictatorial powers over the members of the Clubs of both Leagues.

Among the players of both Leagues was one dear to the hearts of all New Castle sports lovers, J. P. ("Honus") Wagner, of the Pittsburgh Club, who came to professional baseball in 1897 with the then National League of Louisville, joining the Pittsburgh Club in 1900, since which time he has never lost his devotion to the Pittsburgh Club. He will be found on the base lines this year acting as coach for the Pittsburgh Club.

The oldtimers will never forget the jealousy existing between the Pittsburgh National League Club and the Detroit American League Club over the relative merits of "Honus" Wagner of Pittsburgh and "Ty" Cobb of Detroit, a jealousy that came to a show-down in 1909 when Pittsburgh played Detroit in the World Series and baseball fans believed that that Series would decide several questions—which of the two would make the most base hits, steal more bases, and make the most runs. Cobb's hitting was very weak and he did not get a chance to steal bases, and, naturally, made no runs, while Wagner shone in all departments. Nevertheless, "Ty" led the American League in batting for twelve seasons, while Wagner led the National League in batting for eight seasons. And while "Ty" Cobb's highest average for the years was four hundred twenty hours, Wagner's was three hundred eighty. During the twenty-three years of Cobb's baseball life, he played in three thousand thirty-three games and Wagner, in twenty-two years, played two thousand seven hundred eighty-five games.

Cobb was the most spectacular of the two in his playing. He developed a "slide feet first", right foot in the air. He was accused of being a vicious player, because of his sliding feet on several occasions injured the second baseman but he was pardoned. However, for this, the second baseman learned to take care of himself. Wagner was the steady player and although Cobb's percentage of hits was greater in his years of playing, Wagner was the most dangerous.

There is famous story involving Christy Mathewson, the great New York National Pitcher and Rube Marquard, New York was playing a very important game with Pittsburgh, contending for the pennant honors in their League. Marquard had recently joined the Giants with a very fine reputation and he turned out to be a great pitcher. He was to start the game for New York—the first of his appearances for the Giants. Marquard was a very polite gentleman. He addressed all of the players as "Mr." and referred to all players as "Mr." Before the game he walked over to Christy and said:

"Mr. Mathewson, I understand you have a little book in which you have indicated the strength and weaknesses of every batter that has faced you."

"Yes," said Christy.
"Well, would you be kind enough to indicate on this score card the weaknesses of the Pittsburgh Team?"

"Yes," said Christy, "I will do so." And Christy did, but he indicated nothing after Wagner's name. Marquard looked the list over and then said:

"You say nothing about the weakness of Mr. Wagner."

"No, for Mr. Wagner has no weaknesses. My advice to you is, if you are in a hole and if the score is close and there is a man on the base, pass him."

"All right," said Marquard. And the game proceeded.

It was very close. A Pittsburgh player did get as far as second base in one inning and Mr. Wagner came up to bat. Mathewson was very interested at this juncture. He wondered whether Marquard would follow his advice or not. Marquard immediately showed that he was following Christy's advice. Chief Myers, a famous catcher on the New York Team, stood wide of the plate and Marquard threw three wide balls. Wagner observed the performance and settled himself seemingly on his bat, evidently thinking, "well, if you want to pass me, go ahead," when—Bingo! out came his bat and a base hit resulted and a run. The inning was promptly completed and after it was over, Marquard, rather downcast, walked over to Christy and said:

"Honestly, Mr. Mathewson, that was a wild pitch, but how did Mr. Wagner get his bat out from behind him?"

Mathewson's only comment was: "I told you, Marquard, that Mr. Wagner has no weaknesses."

The greatest complement Wagner ever received was the story told of a game played between New York and Pittsburgh. Wagner made both the runs, stole three bases, made a spectacular catch and a great stop of a ground ball, besides scoring in two double plays. The HERALD, in its sports page, headed the story:

"Wagner 2, New York 0."
Still At Pittsburgh

Well, Mr. Wagner can be seen this year still in a Pittsburgh uniform and after the fifteenth year of his baseball life on the coaching lines of the Pittsburgh Team, while Cobb, properly known by his fans as the "Georgia Peach" is back in his native habitat and is very happy. He saved his money and invested it wisely.

During the years since the National League was organized, there have been great players developed and baseball has become an A-1 business. The salaries paid to men like Cobb and Wagner would look like only pocket money to the modern baseball player. Babe Ruth was given a very beautiful demonstration in New York the other day was paid eighty thousand dollars a year for his ability to hit home runs. He made sixty of them in one season—the record for all time to date. And now Bob Feller, the "fire ball" pitcher of the Cleveland Team, is reputed to be making more than that out of his baseball activities. He is said to be getting seventy thousand dollars from the Cleveland Team and making a fine profit out of his post-series barnstorming team, which with the permission of the commissioner, he has gathered together each year for several years a bunch of players from both Leagues and arranges for his tour some time before the season is over—his transportation, his hotel, his playing field and the team that is to be in each city, the contestant.

There have been other players considered just as valuable as any of the ones I have mentioned. There was Adrian C. Anson, first baseman and Captain who played back in the eighties; John McGraw, New York National; Fred Clark, Pittsburgh; Roger Hornsby, who played all over for both Leagues for twenty-three years and had the highest batting percentage in both Leagues save one—"Ty" Cobb.

Among Immortals
And among the other immortals were James Fox of the Philadelphia and Detroit American; James O'Neill of the St. Louis; Dan Broth-ers who played for the forgotten Buffalo Team; Tris Speaker, Cleveland American; Ed Collins, Mike Delahanty, Walter Johnson, the "big train" of the Washingtons; Greaser C. Alexander of the Philadelphia National and the "iron man", Joseph J. McGinnity, of the Baltimore American League and the New York National League, who in five different days pitched the entire two games known as "double-head-ers".

These names are the names of the oldtimers—the players of which older fans say: "There are no such men left in baseball." They were the natural baseball players. The newer ones of the last few years are many of them college athletes and well trained before they enter professional baseball.

Before I end this screed, I must refer to Robert L. Lowe, of New Castle, Pennsylvania, who played second base for the Boston National and who in one game (May 30, 1894) made four home runs in a single game—a total of seventeen extra bases; the record of all time.

Sports writers today would like to refer to three great Chicago players—Tinker, Evers and Chance, and when they speak of "Tinker to Evers to Chance" they refer to one of the greatest combinations of infielders that every played. They probably completed more double plays than any other infield combination. Tinker is the only survivor of that combination. Evers died just recently. But that same Bobby Lowe of New Castle was a part of another great combination of Boston infielders, consisting of J. J. Collins, third baseman; Long, short-stop; Lowe, second baseman and Tenney, first baseman, and which at home or abroad in finishing their field practice immediately before the game, showed the most marvelous rapid and hair-raising display of handling the ball from one to the other, and which seldom failed to put the fear of God in the hearts of their opponents. It was "Long to Lowe to Tenney" or "Collins to Lowe to Tenney" or "Tenney to Collins to Lowe, to Tenney again," to complete the ordinary "three out, slide retired."

The American fan is very proud of his baseball players. They are almost universally an honorable lot of men. Some of them behave like grown-up boys on the playing field, but most of them put away childish things when they assume the uniform of one of the big League games. They give their best to the game. They follow Teddy Roosevelt's advice to football players:

"Don't flinch, don't foul, but hit the line hard!"

FARRELL RESIDENT SUICIDES
FARRELL, Pa., May 20.—(INS)—The Mercer county coroner's office today listed as suicide the death of Samuel Kekich, 58, of Farrell.

Deputy Coroner James Elder said Kekich shot himself in his home yesterday with a shotgun. He had been in poor health for several months.

Labor leaders in Brazil are studying the portal-to-portal question, and it may become a factor in Brazilian industrial relations in the near future.

Says U.S. Aid To Turkey Averted Third World War

By JAMES E. BROWN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, May 20. — A veteran Turkish parliamentarian declared without reservation in London today that President Truman's extension of financial aid to Turkey "averted a third world war."

The spokesman was Huseyin Jahit Yalcin, leader of a Turkish parliamentary delegation now visiting the British capital.

In an interview, Yalcin said:

Gives Reasons

"By averting a third world war I mean that Stalin will read the lessons of history."

"The Kaiser attacked France in 1914 because the attitude of England was uncertain."

"Hitler attacked Poland because the position of England and France was uncertain."

"Stalin will not attack Turkey because today America's attitude is known beyond the shadow of a doubt."

But before the President's declaration, Russia was growing daily increasingly menacing to Turkey. And even today, when the crisis has abated, two tremendous armies face each other on opposite sides of the frontier.

Would Have Meant Invasion

"I am firmly convinced that failure by the United States Congress to pass the 'Aid to Turkey' bill would have resulted in slow Soviet invasion of Turkey, like the aggression unsuccessfully attempted against Iran."

"Since America's decisive action, we have had no further Soviet aggression aside from constant press attacks and now we expect no fresh Russian demand for control of the Dardanelles."

"Without American aid we would have fought like Finland but we would have lost through sheer weight of numbers. The President's action undoubtedly has averted a third world war."

Struck By Auto In North Jefferson Street Monday Night, Police Report

William Bartsch of 1011 North Mercer street, is in the Jameson Memorial hospital, having been struck by an auto operated by Edith Stanley in North Jefferson street, north of the intersection of Wilmington avenue, at 9:15 p. m. Monday, according to Policemen Thompson and Tewell who investigated the accident for the city police department.

His injuries consist of a possible fracture of the left ankle, laceration of the scalp and hand, body contusions and loss of two teeth. X-rays were to be taken today to determine what further injuries he may have received.

According to Miss Stanley's report to police she was operating an auto north in the street. She claims Mr. Bartsch was walking in the cartway, about three feet from the curb.

She claims the street light was out, the glove and shade being off, and she did not see Mr. Bartsch until it was too late to avoid striking him. It is reported the light had been broken.

Miss Stanley averted her car and lost control of it. It plunged into a small hollow at the west side of the street.

MUST BE TONED DOWN
PHILADELPHIA, May 20.—(INS)—The state board of motion picture censors has decreed that the sultry "Duel in the Sun" must be toned down for its Pennsylvania showings.

Board members said the widely-publicized film was "in process of censorship and that a number of cuts have already been made. Protests were received. It was learned, from church and women's groups against scenes between Gregory Peck and Jennifer Jones, who plays an Indian half-breed girl. The picture was scheduled to open in Philadelphia on May 29.

Legislators Are
Champing At Bit

Slowdown In Work Irritates
—Adjournment May Come
In Middle Of June

OTHER NEWS OF
STATE CAPITAL

HARRISBURG, May 20.—(INS)—Legislators have been champing at the bit for several weeks due to a slowdown in work. Absenteeism has plagued Republican and Democratic leaders alike but they were expected to whip their delegations into line for the concluding weeks of the session. All indications point to final adjournment within the first two weeks of June. In any event, it will be the longest session since lawmakers wrangled for 196 days in 1941 and recorded the longest meeting in 99 years. Six years ago, the General Assembly did not adjourn sine die until July 14. In 1943, the session ended May 8 while two years ago the final gavel fell May 7. In 1842, the session lasted 204 days.

Gov. James H. Duff and his advisors have been blamed by assemblymen for not presenting a definite administration program when the legislature convened in January. However, the same criticism has been leveled at many other governors in the past. It is difficult for a chief executive assuming office in January to have a legislative program ready for the assembly which usually meets about two weeks before his inauguration.

Before the 1947 session adjourns, Governor Duff was expected to make many major appointments including choosing men to fill three $10,000 a year jobs on the state payroll. A vacancy on the State Liquor Control Board has existed since the death of the late William S. Rial in 1941. A vacancy on the Public Utility Commission has not been filled since the death of Ralph W. Thorne in 1945. Another PUC vacancy occurred April 1 when the term of Commissioner B. Frank Morgal expired. Morgal, expected to be returned to the commission for a 10-year term, has been serving under a clause which permits him to hold office until his successor is appointed and qualified. The Senate must confirm all three appointments. Should the governor choose to wait until the assembly has adjourned his appointments would not be put up for confirmation until the next special or regular session.

The costly statuary flanking the main entrance of the State Capitol has not been uncovered for the streams of visitors for reasons known only to the State Department of Property and Supplies. About the end of January, the department completed the task of enclosing the statuary in with wooden frames to protect it from rain and snow. The reason was that the marble figures have been worn by the weather down through the year and cracks have appeared. The covering was designed to keep out snow and rain which would freeze and do greater damage to the statuary.

Name Eight Rules
To Make Socialism
Success In Britain

LONDON, May 20.—(INS)—The National Executive Committee of the Labor Party laid down eight "commandments" Monday to implement an all-out campaign to make Socialism a success in Great Britain.

In a special statement on production the executive group set up a triple target comprising:

"Jobs for all, social justice for the people, high production to make possible higher consumption." The "commandments," which Labor party members were instructed to put into effect immediately, are:

1. Give a clear lead for increased production.

2. Urge every woman whose home duties permit to take up employment.

3. Give fullest support to the savings campaign.

4. Refuse to tolerate inefficiency. Develop and make fullest use of joint consultation to increase output.

5. Urge fellow workers to keep in closest touch with trade union branches.

6. Know the facts of the government production campaign.

PITTSBURGH, May 20.—(INS)—Edward A. Strecker, chairman of the psychiatry department of the University of Pennsylvania told members of the federation of social workers recently in Pittsburgh that western civilization and the very survival of "our democracy depends upon the existence and continuation of marriage and the family."

Prom Honors
Bessemer Seniors

Junior class of Bessemer High school honored the senior class with a prom Friday evening. The school auditorium was beautifully decorated as a Dutch scene with bright tulips, a sequined windmill and a waterfall. The gaily colored gowns of the guests were in harmony of the setting.

Credit goes to the two faculty advisors, Mrs. Clair Alford and Robert Glaspey and the excellent cooperation of the class for fine work in making the prom a success. A delightful evening was enjoyed by approximately 115 young people.

Prepare Park For Coming Season

Work Of Preparing Cascade
Park For Opening Date
Is Being Rushed

Cascade Park will be ready for picnickers and pleasure seekers when the city institution opens on Memorial Day.

A preview of what can be expected at the East Side amusement and nature spot was given by a reporter on Monday afternoon during his usual visit to the park. Activity was noted on every hand, with workmen engaged in making many improvements which will meet with the approval of visitors there when Cascade Park is officially opened for the summer season.

To Improve Entrance
Work is expected to get under way shortly on the entrance to the park, when a good blacktop surface will be applied, eliminating much dust and aiding motorists during rainy days. The new surface will enhance the appearance of the lower park entrance.

The merry-go-round, which is a perennial favorite with the kiddies from five to 75, has been completely rejuvenated, with Neil and Prince and even Leo the Lion having received a brand new coat of paint and varnish. A new Wurlitzer organ has been installed to intrigue the kiddies as they ride the amusement. J. A. Heeter will operate the merry-go-round again this year.

The dodge-em has been given its spring tryout, according to B. W. Bartsch, with several more cars being operated than were last year. All the motors have been overhauled and are performing perfectly.

Some Delays
According to Chris Coulthard, manager of the park, aquatic fans will have to wait a while yet. Improvements on the pool have not as yet been made, and until such have been made the water will not be turned in. The work on the lake still remains dormant. Weather has prevented the smoothing out of the lake bottom before the water will fill the lake. It is anticipated that boating will be done on the lake this year.

Concessions are being added that will appeal to any age that cares to indulge in outdoor pleasures. It was learned. The new miniature golf course is being rushed to completion. The miniature railway that was operated last year just west of the park across Big Run will be transferred this year to the playground area near the grove and will be somewhat enlarged.

Already many picnics have been booked up for the grove and it is expected that many will be found eating picnic suppers and dinners at the park again this year. The picnic shelters have been touched up, making them more attractive to visitors. As usual, free gas will be provided for those cooking anything in the grove.

Doris Cromwell,
Township Settle
Old Court Fight

NEW YORK, May 20.—(INS)—Doris Duke Cromwell and Hillsboro township, N. J., where she owns a 2,000 acre estate, were at peace today after a court battle that lasted eight years.

A compromise agreement signed by representatives of Miss Cromwell and Hillsboro township stipulates that the township will stop suing her for more taxes and won't bring new action for five years.

Miss Cromwell, for her part, will waive collection of a $2,953 judgment obtained against the township for legal costs.

Legal warfare between Miss Cromwell and Hillsboro township began in 1939 when the township attempted to tax the intangible assets of the Duke Power Co., which then had offices at Duke's Park, and the Doris Duke endowment.

Miss Cromwell fought the claims, carrying her case to the Supreme Court, and won. She also got a judgment against the township for being unreasonably harassed by its tax suits.

The peace pact followed.

Clamp Emergency
State As Attack
Hits Changchun

PEIPING, May 20.—(INS)—A state of emergency was clamped down on Changchun Monday in the face of a renewed siege threat by Chinese Communist troops that thrust twin spearheads into the suburbs of the Manchurian capital.

Sixty miles to the east, the key communications center of Kirin on the strategic Sungari river also was threatened with siege by Communist forces exerting mounting pressure against the city's outer defenses.

The wives and children of Chinese Nationalist officials were being evacuated from Kirin.

Nationalist dispatches admitted that still other Communist units were attacking the 80-mile Tongshan-Shanghai stretch of the Peiping-Mukden railroad. This is the most important overland route for the transport of Nationalist reinforcements and supplies from China into Manchuria.

The railroad was reported to have been cut with the Communist capture of a small station 25 miles southwest of Chinwangtao, the North China port from which withdrawing U. S. Marines embarked for Guam last week.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treat, ent Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tied kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 10 pints of urine daily. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty urination with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 60 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Food Situation
May Get Worse
In Great BritainBy CHARLES A. SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)LONDON, May 20.—John Bull is getting ready today to punch another hole in his belt.There is every sign that beginning not later than this fall the food situation in Britain will get worse and that real food shortages will be experienced by next year when an even more difficult economic crisis hits the nation.For the moment, however, alarmist stories about starving Britain can be ignored as contrary to the facts. Starvation, such as was experienced in the Irish potato famine of last century, or has been witnessed in more recent times in Germany, China and India, nowhere is visible in Britain now.

Situation 'In Between'

There are no emaciated faces, skeleton-like limbs and swollen stomachs such as the American public has seen in pictures from other countries at various times this century.The real truth of the situation in Britain lies somewhere between the dire statements being made by opposition politicians in and out of the British legislature and the bland assurances of government spokesmen that everything is well with the British food situation.A fair analysis is that the belt has not yet had its last hole punched in it, but that there are manifest signs that for psychological and physical reasons it will not stand being pulled in much more.The experience and the observations of this correspondent who has witnessed step by step every stage and degree of British rationing since 1939, is that the average Britisher is getting only just enough to eat.Circuit Meeting Of legislation to continue the state deto expand other international cultural activities.The subcommittee, headed by Rep.

hearing Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, army chief of staff, endorse the program, which is threatened with termination June 30.Mundt said the full committee will authorizes whatever appropriations

Williams Hits Important Home Run As Red Sox-Tigers Split

Blow Deprives Tigers Of Four Game Advantage

Tigers Beat Dave Ferriss In First Game, Williams Saves Morale Of Sox

CARDINALS DEFEAT PHILS AT NIGHT

By LES KONKIN

(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, May 20.—Ted Williams never hit a more timely home run in his life than the one he whacked against Detroit in the 9th inning of the second game of yesterday's double-header with Detroit.

Until thumping Ted came through with that pay-off drive, things looked pretty bleak for the Boston Red Sox. Detroit had won the first game and was leading 4-3 when Williams came to bat with a man on base and one out in the final frame of the nightcap.

His Ninth Homer

The Tigers, who had forged ahead in their half of the inning on a double by Eddie Mayo and a pinch single by Doc Cramer, sent Virgil Trucks to the mound to protect their lead, because if they could win this one, they would be four full games in front of the champions.

Trucks got rid of one batter, but Wally Moses singled and Williams, crossing up Trucks, prevented a Boston debacle by parking a three ball-no strike pitch high into the right field stands for his ninth homer of the season.

Bo Ferriss Beaten

The resulting 5-4 victory was important because a defeat would have been a damaging blow to morale of the Sox.

Detroit beat Dave Ferriss in the opener, 3-2, on George Kell's double in the 12th.

The Sox, however, are not yet out of the woods. If the pace-setting Tigers beat them today they will leave the hub with a three-game lead.

Detroit, with four starting pitchers going strong and not missing Hank Greenberg with Pat Mullin leading the circuit in batting, still shapes up as the team the Red Sox will have to beat to win the American League pennant again.

Indians Scalp Yanks

Cleveland, making up some ground while the Tigers and Red Sox are battling each other, beat the New York Yankees again, 5-4, as the Yanks wasted two homers.

Chicago's White Sox in a night game beat the Washington Senators in the 12th inning 4-1. Skeeter

High Relay Team In State Meet

Coach Bill Klee Taking Mile Relay Team, Jack Robey Hurdler To State College

New Castle High will be represented in the state schoolboy championship track and field meet at State College Saturday by the NCAH mile-relay team and Jack Robey, long hurdler, it was announced today by Faculty Manager Robert Mills.

Coach Bill Klee will probably take the following mile relayers—Gene Gribble, Lou Gilmore, Dave Crunkleton, and Phil Richards, with an alternate yet to be selected. The local thinned relayers ran the mile in 3:37.7 at the WPIAL meet at Connelville.

Only first and second place finishes in the WPIAL meet qualify for the state championships.

HARLANSBURG WINS

Harlanburg defeated Hickory A. C. in a North County loop game Sunday at Hickory Heights, 2 to 0, with Parish the winning pitcher and Rich the loser. Parish fanned 10 batters, and Stone nine after relieving Rich.

Wampum Legion In Hot Streak

Wardman-Porter Club Hopes To Keep String Intact Against Galilee Wednesday

Wampum Legion is living up to the role of champions of the Lawrence County Baseball League.

Defeated only once in six outings (by Hillsville, 7 to 6), the loop kinsmen are showing their heels to their nearest rivals, the Ellwood Moose, whom they humbled Sunday, 3-1 to lead by 2 games.

The Wardman-Porter outfit is slugging the ball hard and their hits are timely. To date they have clubbed out 54 safeties for an average of nine per game. These raps have produced 47 runs, almost eight per tussle.

Carroll Top Flyer

Wally Carroll, ex-North Carolina Navy hurler, is the top moundman to date, winning the opener against Edinburg 6-2 on a six-hit, and stopping the Moose Sunday on a three-hit effort. He has fanned 28 men, six of them in a relief role.

Jim McCready, who favors at first base when not on the rubber, has won one game, as have Joe Hair-hogger, Jr., and co-manager Wardman. "Chuck" Harper has the only loss on the record thus far.

Wednesday evening the champs will try to make it five in a row when they entertain New Galilee.

All Clubs Busy

All other clubs in the circuit will be busy the same night. Second-place Moose will be at home against Castledown, St. Lucy's who quitted the cellar Sunday, will be at Bessemer. Wayne A. C. is carded at Hillsville and Ellwood Vets have a date at Edinburg.

County Chatter: Two of the brightest young pitchers to come up to the league this season are Campbell of Wayne A. C. and Jim Martin of the Bessemer club. Campbell, who is 16, won his first assignment, 3-2 over Castledown, out-pitching "Pud" Henderson, and limiting the Castles to five blows.

Martin has only started one loop game but his work on the mound is something to marvel at. In 24 innings he has permitted but one earned run, his best performance was Sunday when he blanked the Ducks of the City League, 10-0 on five hits. . . . St. Lucy's is reported to have signed some very able performers who are looked to lift the club from the second division. . . . "Rags" Grimmer, recently signed by Wampum, got the second home in the league so far Sunday against the Moose.

"Steamer" Stanley, regular last season with Bessemer, is about ready to take his regular turn on the hill. . . . he has been ailing of late. . . . Ellwood Vets are deploring the lack of space in the Tube City. . . . lack of practice sessions have taken the edge off the team's play. . . . the Ewing Park field is in use constantly what with the Moose sharing it and the high school nine also staging their contests there.

Union Defeats Wampum 10 to 3, Loop Lead Tied

Union Plays Iron Man Stunt, Defeats Both Mt. Jackson And Wampum Same Day

The Union High Scotties gave their coach a real present yesterday as they thumped Mt. Jackson 9 to 2 in the morning and then came back to their own field to gain sweet revenge on the protested game with Wampum as they hammered out a 10 to 3 decision over the Indians.

The Scotties are now tied with Wampum and await the decision of the WPIAL as to when and where the tie will be played off.

In the Mt. Jackson game Hoover and R. Conti had triples for the only extra-base blows. Hoover pitched the first four innings for Union with Allison relieving in the fifth, with Rotunno catching. For Jackson it was J. Gibson and Butler with Bader catching.

S. Kupiec hurled a sweet game for six innings but an arm injury forced him out of the game in the first of the seventh. Hoover took over and fanned the last two batters.

Golf League To Start Wednesday

Sylvan Heights Players Hope For Break In Weather For Opener Tomorrow Night

With 10 teams all primed and ready to go, the Sylvan Heights golf league, senior circuit in western Pennsylvania golfing circles, will pry off the lid Wednesday evening, when the rubber game will be played.

Play will start promptly at six o'clock, and the schedule calls for the following teams to oppose each other:

Etna Standard Engineering vs. Spaldings—tee one.

Universal Sanitary Mfg. vs. Vernors—tee 5.

United Engineering vs. New Castle Moose—tee 10.

Sons of Italy vs. Standard Steel Springs—tee 10.

Duca D'Abuzzi vs. Ellwood City Moose—tee 10.

Spaldings and Etna Standard Engineering are the two new entries in the league, but both boast fast aggregations and will make the race interesting for all comers.

Ellwood City Moose, last year's champions, draw a tough team in the Duca D'Abuzzi sextet, the Croton boys having their usual fast team, and this match will be interesting.

Brothers Hopes To Flash 'Kayo'

Rizieri Ronzi Who Lost Bout By Decision Battles Him Wednesday

Only 25 hours remain until Elkins Brothers, New Castle and Rizieri Ronzi, Youngstown, both heavyweights, entertain the fistic-inclined with a punch party which is designed to go three rounds in The Arena, but will it?

This question is on the lips of every dyed-in-the-wool fan and fanette who witnessed their first vicious encounter which Elkins won after three hard rounds.

Wednesday night's encounter is certain to be fierce, if not more rapid than the first encounter, because Rizieri has taken the defeat to heart.

And when Elkins turned in the decision victory he did something that has not been done here before by any boxer. Ronzi has been in the ring for some time while it was a debut for Brothers.

Constant Andrew Fair and Homer Gray, the latter a former middleweight, have been in charge of Brothers training and Andy says: "I expect Brothers to knock out Ronzi tomorrow night."

Brennan and Bradley appear to be looking forward to seeing Derby Brennan, classy junior lightweight, versus Bill Underwood of Youngstown. The Sharon boys scored two knockdowns over Eddie Jones in his last encounter here in which he showed promise.

It is possible that a substitute may be required for Tony Zanish, Sharon, who reported was injured in a Sharon plant. However, if such comes about a good opponent for Youngstown's Frankie Wooten will be procured.

Bill Bradley, New Castle middleweight, will take on Charlie Pastovich, Youngstown, who lost to Zanish in the last show. Bradley also was lost to Zanish. However he went the limit, whereas Pastovich was wasted to his corner.

There'll be thunder in the Jimmy Zeka, Sharon, Leonard Pilolli, Youngstown fight. Zeka won a questionable decision several weeks ago which ruled a large portion of the crowd.

Danny Benedetti, Youngstown, takes on Willie Brown, Warren at 147 and Tommy Dye battles Calvin Hill, also of Warren, at 147, in two other bouts.

The first battle tomorrow night starts at 8:30 p. m. with the Jefferson A. C. as promoter of the show which is designed to further the Sons of Italy athletic equipment fund.

USE LEAD ARSENATE TO KILL CURCULIOS

Curculios, small snout beetles which make crescent-shaped cuts on stone fruits are depositing their eggs, can be controlled with lead arsenate sprays. Use seven tablespoons of lead arsenate and two cups of hydrated lime in five gallons of water. One cup of wettable sulphur added to this mixture makes it a fungicide as well. Spray peaches, plums, cherries, apricots, and the like, when a majority of the flower petals fall.

Rotary Members Honor Shenkan

Meeting Monday Noon Adjourned Following Luncheon So Members Can Pay Respects

New Castle Rotary club dispensed with its customary after-luncheon program Monday noon so that the members could pay their last respects to one who had been a faithful and energetic member.

A special bus took the members to the Leyde mortuary after the luncheon. Services for Mr. Shenkan, who died Saturday, being conducted Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Attention of the members was called to the Ladies Night program Thursday evening, May 22, in Sharon, when Harold Elde, a native of Alaska, will be the speaker.

Studies of patients show that aches, pains, fatigue and lack of energy may come from emotions and attitudes, frequently aroused by marital or work difficulties.
